SHORT BUT SWEET:

A priest who had spent a fruitless day fishing picked out three fat fish in the market. "Before you wrap them," he said to the store manager, "toss them to me, one by one. That way I'll be able to tell the monsignor I caught them and I'll be speaking the truth."

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK:

"None of us get out of life alive, so be gallant, be gracious, and be grateful for the opportunities you have. Jake Bailey [18 year old New Zealand boy battling cancer]

"Yesterday I was clever so I wanted to change the world. Today I am wise so I want to change myself." Rumi

"And once the storm is over, you won't remember how you made it through, how you managed to survive. You won't even be sure, whether the storm is really over. But one thing is certain. When you come out of the storm, you won't be the same person who walked in. That's what this storm's all about." Haruki Murakami

"The only devils in the world are those running in our own heart. That is where the battle should be fought." Mahatma Gandhi

"Every son should have a chance to know his father, not as a child knows his protector, but as a man knows another man." Brian Staveley

"Contemplation often makes life miserable. We should act more, think less, and stop watching ourselves live." Sebastien Nicolas

"Sometimes the best people have the worst experiences, because they are the most ready to learn." Elder Maxwell

"A wall is a very big weapon. It's one of the nastiest things you can hit somebody with."
